Colleen just called me about this and forwarded email. First I am hearing of this. We need to brief Rich before his pre-brief for the webinar on Tuesday. That means we need to do so by Friday and need to have a read ahead by tomorrow. Is it possible to get your draft in a read ahead format by noon tomorrow?

Made me cranky because the thought was that we were presenting – told them no as this was the first we were hearing of this. Much appreciate your working on this. It is ok if the read ahead just covers what we have learned so far. I will try to make sure that the briefing is in the morning. Thanks!

I will get the read ahead done as early as possible tomorrow for your review. In terms of a briefing, I am off on Friday for a family wedding so I could only provide a briefing on Friday if it is in the morning.

I know this makes you as cranky as it makes me. Sigh.

Looking at this more closely, it would be easier to frame the read ahead if we had the questions put forward by ACE. I would propose to get Sergio Perez working on the technology side of the questions.

Agreed. That was news to all of us. In order to get the technology questions answered and to tailor the read ahead, we need OGC to send us ACE's questions, even if OGC has not finished with the script. Is there someone I should reach out to?

Colleen reached out to Melanie M and told her there are a lot of complexity in the transition of the Section 117 work. She confirmed this is the first transition meeting and understands there will be more. She asked if we wanted to identify agenda items we want to start discussing next Tuesday.

Please identify 4-5 large agenda items (or whatever the right number is) based on our Read Ahead and meeting discussion this morning - but not get into detail, that we can send to Melanie over the weekend.

Thanks

P.S. Lisa thanks again for joining even though you were off.
