You don't often get email from sari.montgomery@dps109.org. Learn why this is important

Dear Walt,

Thank you for your email and for your service. Deerfield Public Schools District 109 complies with state law. The Illinois Human Rights Act prohibits all public school districts from discriminating on the basis of sex, including gender identity, and mandates that students must be permitted access to the locker room and bathroom that aligns with their gender identity.

We are sensitive to the privacy needs of all of our middle school students and ensure that no student is required to change into a gym uniform for physical education class in front of others. When both our middle schools were renovated in 2017, we added five private changing stations within each locker room that are available to all students. All students also have multiple options to change in a private location separate from the locker room if they wish.

The District and the Board are united with our leaders and educators on this issue and have a shared commitment to upholding the law.

I hope this addresses your concerns.

Best regards,
Sari Montgomery

to educate you on the extreme basics of biology, if there is a vagina present, the one that own's it is a female. if there is a penis present, the one it belongs to is a male. there are but two genders. that is how nature is. ever see a rooster lay an egg? got milk from a bull? a queer wearing lipstick does not make it a female.

a study in the *journal of applied physiology* found that men had an average of 26 lbs. (12 kilograms) more skeletal muscle mass than women. women also exhibited about 40 percent less upper-body strength and 33 percent less lower-body strength, on average, the study found. Dec 7, 2015 so much for lower testosterone making a queer a her and an equal competitor in sports.

how are you going to remove the more muscle mass present in a man versus what a woman has? change the center of gravity for this queer in a dress? how will you accomplish this? if you do not, then this queer in a dress has an exponential advantage over a real woman in sports.

do you know anything about human biology or physiology? do you? a man's center of gravity is located at the center of his chest at his sternum while a woman's center of gravity is located approximately in the center of her pelvis.

because of this makeup, combined with his ability to increase his upper body strength at a quicker pace, a man will be able to invert more easily. a woman's body is naturally more grounded while a man is more easily able to fly. for example, handstands are a bit easier for a man, while a woman can more generally sense the ground and use it as her base of support.

how many young girls have to be attacked, molested, or raped by a queer in a dress before you take any kind of action to protect them? use your search engine du jour and look up all the violence against girls from these queers in a dress that you defend more than the ones they hurt. (trans attacks on girls in the bathroom - Google Search) in virginia, a louden county queer in a dress anally raped a fourteen (14) year old girl in the girls bathroom, and the principal, school superintendent thru the school board ALL hid the rape, transferred the queer in a dress to another school, and he again raped another teenage girl. <https://www.loudoun.gov/specialgrandjury> read it for yourself. is louden county your hero and what you strive to accomplish?

“payton mcNabb, a former north carolina high-school volleyball player who suffers from long-term physical and mental injuries caused by a biological male who identifies as transgender during a match in 2022, called out democrat lawmakers on x for denying the harm that trans women cause in sports. ~jamie joseph

how is it that so many cannot comprehend the very basic tenets of biology? it is not that tough. how did you even finish elementary school if you could not understand that with humans, just like the rest of the animal kingdom, there are but two sexes? were you absent that day in third grade and never made up the work?
